Important RenWeb Information FACTS Management acquired RenWeb four years ago in order to provide schools with the tools they needed to manage every aspect of the educational experience in a combined, secure, and easy-to-use system. Since the acquisition, FACTS has been working diligently to continue to combine services in a meaningful, methodical way. Now they are taking another important step in the process and becoming a single company—FACTS. This change will help fulfill the mission to provide schools with the best products and services possible. Additional information will be available next week, but we wanted to make you aware of this upcoming change. Please be assured, your login information and FACTS accounts will stay the same and the RenWeb App. will continue to provide you parent information. No action is required on your part.
